Dear Janet,

I plan to phone you later tonight but as I want to send you some newspaper cuttings and mail I also write!!! A bonus you should consider it, but I feel you may have a different view.

Yesterday being Saturday I went up to Bowls and had a good time. A trip and a double (in which I was a participant) Great to have the chance to use four bowls, I need the practice!!!! Mike, the bearded chap who had hepatitis and is still wobbly brought up his daughters bowls as he thought you were still here and the only member of the club that might find the small hand bowl appropriate. He is of course selling these together with his old ones as he now has a new set. His old ones would not suit me for they are 4.5 and small. I have told everyone that you are organising getting me a set of 5 Heavy, so I hope it materialises!!! Sooner the better, first person out!

Today I played with Roddy for four hours, singles and then a triple with Joseph. I was in good shape and we all were eventually within inches instead of feet from the jack. I am really keen on getting my own Bowls so I hope you have time to organise that.

Next week we will be out there again, the International African Competitions are then going to take place, somewhere else, what everyone is practicing for at Nairobi Club, but I am assured that in a few weeks time the social bowls will activate and all the members will turn up. In the meantime I will concentrate on practice.

This afternoon, not daunted by the hours of Bowls and sunburn I ventured to the mix-in and had an hour and a half of good tennis, for a change, however when Robin turned up at 5.30 and the next sets had to be filled at 6.45 I opted out to make an even number of people, (having to cook my dinner you understand).

Got a birthday present for James I think is interesting so am posting that at exactly the same time as this tomorrow, it is a book, so let me know if it does not turn up.

The Air France ticket thing is a bit of a mess, we will get the new issues but you may want to take the opportunity to change the booking dates and names.
